ACADEMIC COUNSELING
Eight academic counselors, three learning specialists, two assistant academic counselors and one administrative assistant are in place to monitor daily academic progress, receive consistent course feedback, assist with the advising/registration process and monitor eligibility and progress toward graduation.

TUTORIAL SUPPORT
A tremendous resource for all academic abilities, unlimited tutorial support from approximately 75-100 tutors on staff is available from day one up to college graduation in all subject areas. Tutorial support is provided both in-person and virtually. Nebraska's tutorial program is certified as a model tutoring program by the College Reading and Learning Association.

STUDY HALL
Student-athletes attend a supervised, flex-time study hall within the Herman Student Life Complex that features day, evening and weekend hours. Student-athletes are required to complete a specific number of study hours each week as determined by their academic counselor and/or coach. Additional performance-based or tutor-based study hall also may be determined by the academic counselor.

MENTORING
Academic staff serve as mentors to all incoming student-athletes. The student-athletes meet with their mentor weekly to develop time management skills, gather and report academic progress information and discuss academic success strategies.

EDUCATIONAL ASSESSMENTS
Assessments are administered upon the request of the student-athlete, academic counselor, or coach. Learning specialists are available to administer and score informal assessments, which include a reading comprehension and a writing assessment. When more in-depth assessments are necessary, referrals are made to a consulting neuropsychologist who conducts the assessments. If it is determined a student-athlete has a learning disability or another medical condition that impedes the student from reaching their academic potential, appropriate accommodations are implemented by the Office of Services for Students with Disabilities.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ORIENTATION
Each new student-athlete attends an orientation at the beginning of their academic career. Student-athletes are introduced to staff, faculty, administrators, and a variety of resources that help facilitate the transition into college while enhancing awareness of support services in the Athletic Department and across campus.

PERSONAL COUNSELING
Student-athletes will find a supportive and caring environment at Nebraska. Transitional issues, stress management, time management, academic focus and problem resolution are all addressed in a proactive manner throughout the year. If necessary, counseling referrals are also made to designated practitioners.

COMPUTER RESOURCES
All student-athletes are provided the opportunity to have a laptop for use during their academic career at Nebraska. The Herman Student Life Complex has printers and desktop computers available for student-athletes to use in the facility.

Husker Trischa Zorn-Hudson (1984-87) won more medals than any Olympian in history. Blind since birth, she is honored in the U.S. Olympic & Paralympic Museum in Colorado Springs.

9 Silver
5 Bronze
TRISCHA ZORN
Trischa Zorn-Hudson is the most decorated athlete in Olympic or Paralympic history. Her Paralympic swimming career spanned from 1980 to 2004, earning a total of 55 medals - 41 golds, nine silvers, and five bronzes. She was recognized for her incredible performances with a nomination as Sports Illustrated Woman of the Year in 1988 and an induction into the International Paralympic Hall of Fame in 2012 for her storied career across seven Paralympic Games.
Born legally blind, Zorn-Hudson had a condition called aniridia, where she did not have an iris in either eye. She started swimming at the age of 10 in California and became the first physically disabled athlete to earn a full NCAA Division I athletic scholarship. In 2003, she underwent surgery, receiving two artificial iris implants which improved her vision and enabled her to drive. The results of her surgery did not change her Paralympic classification of S12, because she did not use bioptics when swimming.
Now a lawyer, Zorn-Hudson works for the Department of Veterans Affairs in Indianapolis, helping returning soldiers adjust to life as civilians.
"My motivation lies in the fact that I truly love what I'm doing."
- Trischa Zorn-Hudson.

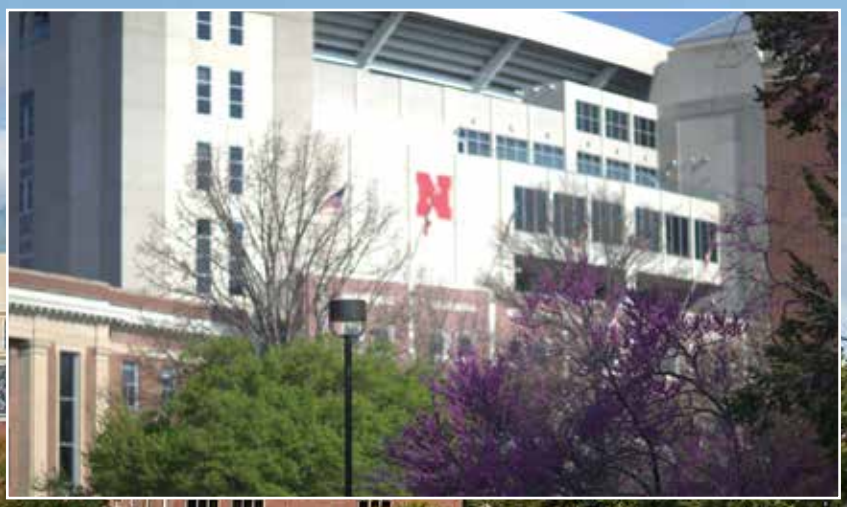
NEBRASKA



THE UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA

Chartered in Lincoln by the Nebraska Legislature in 1869, the University of Nebraska was expanded in 1968 into a university system now comprising four campuses under the guidance of a Board of Regents and a central administration. The flagship University of Nebraska-Lincoln is an educational institution of international stature. Nebraska is classified within the Carnegie "R1: Doctoral Universities – Highest Research Activity" category. Nebraska is also a land-grant university and a member of the Association of Public and Land-grant Universities. The university is accredited by the Higher Learning Commission.

BIG TEN ACADEMIC ALLIANCE

As a member of the Big Ten, the University of Nebraska-Lincoln is a member of the Big Ten Academic Alliance (BTAA), formerly the Committee on Institutional Cooperation, which is the academic consortium of the universities in the Big Ten Conference. The BTAA includes all 14 Big Ten Institutions and partners with the University of Chicago. The Big Ten Academic Alliance and the institutions together have annual research expenditures topping $10.5 billion - more than the Ivy League and the University of California System combined - and they educate a total of nearly 600,000 students with approximately 50,000 faculty members.

U.S. OLYMPIC TRIALS AT HOME IN NEBRASKA

The CHI Health Center in Omaha has played host to four consecutive U.S. Olympic Trials (2008, 2012, 2016 and 2020). Current Huskers Autumn Haebig and Audrey Coffey earned spots in multiple events to represent Nebraska at the trials during the summer of 2021.

The state of Nebraska played host to the U.S. Olympic Swimming Trials (June 13-20) at the CHI Health Center in Omaha for the fourth consecutive time in 2021. The event, which is a showcase event with sellout crowds of 14,000 for each day of the trials, has given Nebraska a chance to showcase its love and support for swimming. The original 2020 version of the U.S. Olympic Swimming Trials was postponed to 2021 by the world-wide outbreak of the coronavirus.

Nebraska three-time All-American Autumn Haebig advanced to Wave II in three events for the trials, after the Wisconsin native qualified in the 100 back, 200 free and 400 free. In February of 2021, Haebig became Nebraska's first Big Ten swimming champion before claiming All-America honors in both the 200 and 500 freestyles at the 2021 NCAA Championships in March. Haebig is the Nebraska record holder in the 400-meter free (4:14.96) and 100-meter back (1:01.91), while also owning NU records in the 100-yard back (52.29), 200-yard free (1:44.39) and 500-yard free (4:41.83).

Audrey Coffey secured her ticket to Omaha for the U.S. Olympic Trials as she raced to victory in the 1,500-meter free (16:48.76) at the 2019 Speedo Sectionals in Jenks, Okla. Coffey set the school record in the event before adding CSCAA All-America honors in the 1,650-yard free in 2020. The Illinois native also swam to a school-record in the 1,000-yard free (9:48.15) as a junior.

At the 2016 U.S. Olympic Trials, the Huskers were represented by Omahans Alexandra Bilunas (50 free) and Erin Oeltjen (100 back, 200 back), and Husker teammates Taryn Collura (Phoenix, Ariz., 50 free, 100 fly), Jordan Ehly (Albuquerque, N.M., 200 breast), Morgan McCafferty (Reynoldsburg, Ohio, 100 back) and Katt Sickle (Grain Valley, Mo., 400 free). The 2016 Huskers tripled the number from the 2012 trials (Bailey Pons, 400 free; Shannon Guy, 100 fly).

Autumn Haebig competed in the 200-meter freestyle, 400 free and the 100 backstroke at the 2020 U.S. Olympic Trials in June of 2021 in Omaha. She was joined by teammate Audrey Coffey (1,500-meter free) in advancing to Wave II of the trials at CHI Health Center.

The state of Nebraska, the Midwest and the entire swimming community took a monumental step on June 28, 2005, when USA Swimming announced Omaha as the host city for the 2008 U.S. Olympic Swimming Trials. After the 2008 Trials proved to be a resounding success, as well as the subsequent 2012 and 2016 Trials, officials from USA Swimming and the Omaha Sports Commission announced the return of the event to Omaha in 2020.

"It came down to the fact that the setup in Omaha for the athletes and coaches is just the best out of all the candidate cities," said Mike Unger, USA Swimming assistant executive director.

The 2008 Trials drew 160,003 fans over eight days and 15 sessions. The 2016 Trials smashed those numbers, with all 15 sessions sold out and attendance exceeding 200,000 for the first time. In 2004, attendance was just over 100,000.

The CHI Health Center has served as a home away from home for Husker Athletics for many years. In 2015, the Nebraska volleyball team won its fourth NCAA title and its second in Omaha. The 2006 Huskers claimed Nebraska's third NCAA volleyball title in Omaha as well, and the arena played host to the 2012 NCAA Volleyball Championships. Nebraska also hosted the Big 12 Wrestling Championships in the building, while the men's basketball team played a regular-season game against Oregon in 2007.

SWIMMERS READY FOR STRONG 2022 SEASON

Coming off its best performance at the NCAA Championships in 20 years and its top effort at the Big Ten Championships since joining the conference in 2011-12, the Nebraska swimming and diving team looks to take another step forward in 2021-22.

Nebraska will be fueled by its most talented and accomplished group of swimmers since Coach Pablo Morales took over the tradition-rich Husker program in 2001.

"Heading into the season, this is certainly one of the strongest teams overall we have had in my time at Nebraska," Morales said. "On paper, it is the best group of swimmers we have had, and they have a chance to be a special group."

Leading the way for the Huskers in the water will be All-American and Big Ten Champion Autumn Haebig. The senior from Grafton, Wis., captured honorable-mention All-America accolades in both the 200 and 500 freestyles at the 2021 NCAA Championships.

Haebig just missed first-team honors in the 200, after winning the B-final to take ninth place at the NCAA meet. She added a 14th-place finish in the 500 free to produce 11 big team points for the Big Red at nationals.

She became the first Nebraska swimmer to capture All-America honors at the NCAA Championships since Lauren Bailey took ninth at the national meet in the 1,650 free in 2006.

Haebig, who earned first-team CSCAA All-America honors in the 200 freestyle in 2020 after the COVID-19 pandemic abruptly ended her true junior season, returns for her fifth season at Nebraska focused on a run at first-team All-America honors at the NCAA meet.

Haebig also became Nebraska's first Big Ten Conference swimming champion in 2021 when she took the league title in the 200 free with a time of 1:44.39. She added a fifth-place finish for the Big Red in the 500 free and took ninth in the 100 free at the conference meet in a career-best 49.14.

Overall, Haebig scored 77 points as an individual and added 95 more points in Husker relays to help account for 172 team points at the 2021 Big Ten Championships. Her efforts helped Nebraska to its best conference finish (7th, 542.5) since joining the powerful Big Ten.

While Haebig hopes to continue in the role as a headliner for the Huskers in the pool, she also has the best supporting cast around her during her time in Lincoln.

Audrey Coffey joins Haebig as a returning Husker All-American. The senior from Naperville, Ill., earned CSCAA All-America honors in the 1,650 freestyle as a sophomore in 2020. Despite the major disruptions in training caused by the pandemic, Coffey broke a 14-year-old Nebraska record with a time of 16:14.19 to finish 19th at the 2021 NCAA Championships.

Although she just missed NCAA All-America honors last season, Coffey is hungry to hunt Big Ten and national honors while rewriting the Husker record book in 2021-22. At the 2021 Big Ten Championships, Coffey took 10th in the 1,650 and added a 13th-place finish in the 500 free for the Big Red. She was also a member of NU's 800 free relay squad.

Maggie Berning could be another key returning swimmer for the Huskers. The senior from Kettering, Ohio, finished 15th in the 200 butterfly at the 2021 Big Ten Championships while adding a 21st-place finish in the 500 free.

Senior Shannon Stott added a top-20 Big Ten finish in the 200 fly, taking 18th in 2021. The second-year Husker from St. Albans, Great Britain, also competed in the 200 and 500 freestyles. The East Carolina transfer contributed to Nebraska's 400 and 800 free relay teams last year at the conference meet.

Fellow 2020-21 transfer Madesyn Ronquillio pitched in a pair of top-24 conference finishes last season for the Big Red. The senior from Tracy, Calif., who spent her first two seasons at Boise State, took 23rd in the 200 backstroke and 24th in the 100 back, while also swimming a leg in the 400 medley relay.

Senior Katelyn Kilpatrick (Ocala, Fla.) added a top-24 finish for the Big Red last season at the Big Ten meet, taking 22nd in the 1,650 free. She added 21st-place efforts in the event in both 2019 and 2020.

Nebraska's extraordinarily strong distance freestyle corps also will be bolstered by the return of fifth-year senior Rachel Powers. The graduate student from Sun Prairie, Wis., took a redshirt season while completing her practicum as an elementary education major. Powers finished 15th in the 1,650 free at the 2020 Big Ten Championships.

All-Americans Autumn Haebig and Audrey Coffey join seniors Rachel Powers and Madesyn Ronquillio as captains for the Huskers in 2021-22.

Berkeley Livingston and Kimberly Lanaghen lead Nebraska's junior class. Livingston, a Lincoln Southwest High School graduate, finished 20th in the 400 IM at the 2021 Big Ten meet. Lanaghen (Boulder, Colo.) added a 20th-place finish of her own in the 500 freestyle for the Huskers in 2021.

Nebraska's group of juniors is also bolstered by the return of Kaitlyn Barth, who posted NU's top time in the 100-yard butterfly (54.18) in a time trial on the final day of the Big Ten Championships.

A pair of 2020-21 freshmen also made impacts at the conference level for the Big Red last season. Ella Stein (Hudson, Wis.) was Nebraska's top breaststroker, taking 15th in the 200 and 23rd in 100 at the Big Ten Championships. She also swam legs on Nebraska's 200 and 400 medley relay teams.

Lexi Kucera (Hutchinson, Minn.) finished 23rd in the 100 freestyle at the Big Ten meet and just missed the C-Finals with a 26th-place performance in the 100 fly.

Two other sophomores return after posting Nebraska's top times of the season in individual events. Caitlin Cairns (Colorado Springs, Colo.) posted the Huskers' best time in the 50 free (23.47), followed by Kucera (23.49) and Gabby Donahue (23.55).

Donahue (Oviedo, Fla.) also posted Nebraska's top time in the 200 IM (2:02.05).

In addition to the strong group of swimmers who have experienced success at the conference meet, the Huskers add a talented class of 2021-22 freshmen who could be ready to make an immediate impact.

Milica Opacic, a true freshman from Novi Sad, Serbia, could propel Nebraska forward in the freestyle and butterfly events. The No. 156 recruit by SwimCloud in 2020, Opacic delayed her enrollment because of the pandemic. At the 2020 Serbian Long Course Junior Championships in Belgrade in December, she won three silver medals in the 50-meter fly, 100-meter fly and 100 freestyle. In March 2021, she raced to career-best times in the 100-meter free (57.82) and the 100 fly (1:00.82). Her time in the 100-meter fly is faster than Nebraska's long-course school record set by Taryn Collura (1:00.98) in 2016.

HAEBIG LEADS MOST TALENTED CORPS IN 20 YEARS

While Opacic brings record-setting potential in the fly, Beatriz Padron brings more international experience as a competitor in the 2020 Tokyo Olympics. Padron was the lone female swimmer to represent Costa Rica in the Olympics, competing in the 200-meter freestyle. She finished 25th overall with a career-best time of 2:04.56 in the prelims, nearly two full seconds faster than her previous career best set at the at the FINA World Junior Championships in Budapest, Hungary in August of 2019.

While Opacic and Padron bring international credentials, JoJo Randby supplies homegrown talent to the Cornhuskers. Randby was the No. 1 recruit in Nebraska in the class of 2021 after winning nine state titles and leading Omaha Marian to back-to-back state team championships in 2020 and 2021. A 10-time NISCA All-American, Randby was ranked as one of the top 150 recruits in the nation by CollegeSwimming.com.

At the 2020 Nebraska high school meet, Randby raced to a state record time of 1:01.29 in the 100-yard breaststroke, which would rank as the fifth-fastest time in Husker history. At the 2021 state meet, she cruised to a career-best time of 23.01 in the 50 free, which was nearly a half-second faster than any time swam by a Husker in 2021.

Italian Ilaria Murzilli brings even more punch to the freshman class. She was ranked as the No. 86 recruit in the world by CollegeSwimming.com and the No. 26 international recruit. A talented distance freestyler, Murzilli demonstrated her ability by taking second individually at the 2021 CSCAA Open Water National Championship to lead Nebraska to the team title on Sept. 17 in Lawrence, Kan.

Sara Troyer leads the Nebraska divers in 2021-22. The 2020 CSCAA All-American on the one- and three-meter boards was the bronze medalist on one meter at the 2021 Big Ten Championships.

Young breaststrokers Sydney McCracken (Kennett Square, Pa.) and Maia Hall (Whitby, England) along with another talented multi-dimensional swimmer in Madison Lloyd (Kingwood, Texas) round out Nebraska's freshman class.

A final newcomer to Nebraska's roster, Emily Haimes (London, England) joins the Huskers as a junior transfer in 2021-22. Haimes was a two-time first-team All-Big 12 performer at West Virginia, taking third in the 100 butterfly (54.13) at the 2021 conference championships. She added a fourth-place finish in the 50 freestyle (22.98) in 2020. Her free time as a freshman would have led the Big Red in 2021.

While Nebraska's swimmers should provide the Huskers with their strongest team this century, the diving corps also returns an All-American in Sara Troyer. The senior from Goshen, Ind., was a CSCAA All-American on both the one- and three-meter boards as a sophomore in 2020. Last season, she qualified for the NCAA Championships again in both events, finishing 25th on one-meter and 27th on three-meter.

Troyer, who earned a bronze medal on the one-meter dive at the 2021 Big Ten Championships also produced a fifth-place finish on the three-meter board at the 2020 conference meet.

Senior Hallie Roman returns as Nebraska's only proven performer on platform. She owns a career best of 218.60 on the event, which is just shy of NCAA zone qualifying standards. A leader outside the well for the Big Red, Roman will push for her best season as a Husker in 2021-22.

Sophomore Reagan Hinze completes Nebraska's three-member dive team for first-year Husker Head Diving Coach Landon Marzullo. Hinze posted solid scores on both the one- and three-meter boards last season and could be poised for bigger performances after competing in both events for the first time at the conference meet in 2021.

Marzullo comes to Nebraska with a track record of success both as a coach and as a competitor. A 10-time All-American and five-time U.S. National Team member.

As a freshman at Indiana, Marzullo accomplished a rare triple, capturing Big Ten Diver of the Year, Big Ten Diver of the Championships and Big Ten Freshman of the Year honors in 2008.

As a coach, he spent three seasons building the UNLV diving program from 2016-17 through 2018-19. He was named the Western Athletic Conference Coach of the Year in 2019 after helping Tazman Abramowicz to three-meter and platform conference titles. Abramowicz became the first UNLV men's diver to qualify for the NCAA Championships in more than 30 years. He also led women's diver Myka Fielding to the NCAA Championships - the first Rebel female diver to advance to nationals in more than 20 seasons.

2020-21 (JUNIOR)

Taylor Acheson continued to contribute in her third season for the Huskers. The junior from Overland, Park, earned a season-best fourth-place finish in the 500 freestyle in a dual against Illinois (Jan. 23). She swam to a career-best time of 4:56.89 in the 500 free in the prelims at the 2021 Big Ten Swimming Championships in Minneapolis (Feb. 24). Acheson also competed in the 200 butterfly (43rd, 2:04.23) and the 200 free (58th, 1:53.04) at the conference meet.

2019-20 (SOPHOMORE)

Acheson was a contributor for the Huskers as a sophomore in the freestyle and butterfly events. She posted a then-career-best time of 4:56.91 in the 500 free at the Big Ten Championships to finish 52nd. She added a season-best time of 1:51.33 in the 200 free at the Big Ten meet. Acheson added a 2:05.50 in the 200 fly at the Mizzou Invitational. She notched a season-best third-place finish in the 1,000 free in the dual win over South Dakota State, and added a fifth-place finish in the 200 fly in a dual victory over Omaha. In the classroom, Acheson was a Big Ten Distinguished Scholar and earned Academic All-Big Ten recognition.

2018-19 (FRESHMAN)

Acheson finished a strong first season with five top-five finishes, including one victory in the 500 free (5:12.63) and a runner-up finish in the 200 free (1:57.06), both against South Dakota State. She racked up four career bests with two coming at the Hawkeye Invitational in the 200 free (1:50.81) and the 400 IM (4:23.37). She added a career best in the 200 IM (2:07.23) at the Big Ten Championships. She also swam a then-career best in the 500 free at South Dakota State (5:12.63). Acheson competed in three events at the Big Ten Championships, including the 200 fly (41st), 200 IM (62nd) and 200 free (64th). On campus, Acheson earned spots on the Nebraska Scholar-Athlete Honor Roll in the fall and spring semesters. She was also a member of the Tom Osborne Citizenship Team.

PREVIOUS

Acheson came to Nebraska after a win at the 2016 Summer Sectional meet. Acheson did not compete for her high school team, but swam for Coach Gardner Howland with the Kansas City Blazers. All-American Audrey Coffey returned to lead a talented and deep Husker distance freestyle corps in 2020-21. Coffey earned a second straight trip to the NCAA Championships after a pair of top-16 finishes at the 2021 Big Ten Swimming Championships in Minneapolis. The junior from Naperville, Ill., raced to a 10th-place finish (16:19.73) in the 1,650 free at the Big Ten meet, just shy of a career-best time. She scored 17 points for the Big Red with the swim and qualified for nationals. Nebraska's No. 2 individual scorer (31 points) as a swimmer at the 2021 Big Ten Championships, she opened the Big Ten meet by advancing to the B-Final in the 500 free, where she placed 13th with a career-best time of 4:47.71. She picked up 14 more points for the Huskers in the 500 free, while also swimming a leg on Nebraska's 800 free relay team.

Coffey came up just short of All-America honors in her first appearance at the NCAA Championships in 2021. She set a 14-year-old Nebraska record with her time of 16:14.19 to break All-American Lauren Bailey's previous mark of 16:14.36 in 2006. Coffey smashed her own lifetime best by more than four seconds on her way to a 19th-place finish. Coffey's performance came after entering nationals as the No. 34 seed in the event. During an abbreviated regular season, Coffey earned six top-five finishes for the Huskers, including a pair of wins and two runner-up showings. She opened the year with a victory in the 1,000 free (9:53.80) at Iowa, before adding a win in a home dual against Illinois (Jan. 23). She took second in the 1,000 free in a tri-dual with Minnesota and Iowa (Feb. 6). She also swam to a second-place finish in the 500 free against Illinois (Jan. 23), while adding a third-place finish in the 400 IM (4:35.35) against the Fighting Illini.

A star as a swimmer for the Huskers over the past four years, All-American Autumn Haebig continued to add her name to Nebraska history by capturing the first Big Ten Conference individual title by a Husker swimmer. Haebig swam to a Big Ten championship in the 200 freestyle with a career-best and Nebraska record time of 1:44.39 in Minneapolis on Feb. 25. She became Nebraska's first individual conference champion since Lauren Bailey claimed the 1,650 free Big 12 title in 2007. Haebig also became the first swimmer in Husker history to earn first-team All-Big Ten honors. Haebig became the first Husker swimmer to earn NCAA All-America honors at the national championships since Lauren Bailey (9th, 1,650 free, 2006) by taking 14th in the 500-yard freestyle (4:42.32) at the 2021 NCAA Championships. Haebig earned three team points for the Big Red with her performance to open the meet. The next night at nationals, Haebig made history again, becoming the first Husker swimmer to earn a pair of individual All-America awards at the same championship since Elvira Fischer (100 & 200 breaststrokes) in 2001. Haebig won the consolation final to bring home a ninth-place finish and eight big team points for the Big Red. Haebig's 11 total points at nationals helped the Huskers to a 26th-place finish - their best showing since taking 23rd in 2001. Nebraska's 33 points scored as a team at nationals were its most since 2000. In addition to her gold medal-winning swim in the 200 free at the conference meet, Haebig added a fifth-place finish to score big points for the Big Red in the 500. She added a ninth-place finish by winning the B-Final in the 100 free at the conference meet in a career-best 49.14. Pablo Morales continues to see the Nebraska swimming and diving program climb in national prominence in and out of the water in his 21st season leading the Husker program.

In 2021, Nebraska earned its best team finish since 2001, placing 26th at the NCAA Championships. Led by a pair of first-team All-America performances by diver Abigail Knapton and two more All-America efforts by swimmer Autumn Haebig, the Huskers just missed a top-25 team finish.

Knapton became the first diver or swimmer in school history to earn first-team All-America honors four times in the same event (platform). The six-time All-American was also the Big Ten Diver of the Championships after winning gold in both the platform and one-meter dives, while taking second on the three-meter board. A CoSIDA first-team Academic All-American as well, Knapton was chosen as Nebraska's Female Student-Athlete of the Year and Best Female Athlete across all sports. An NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship award winner, Knapton was also one of 30 finalists for NCAA Woman of the Year honors. She also went on to be the only diver at the Olympic Trials to finish among the top eight in all three competitive dives.

Haebig added nearly as impressive of a season in the pool and is poised for even bigger accomplishments in her final season in 2021-22. Nebraska's first Big Ten champion after winning the 200 freestyle, Haebig added a top-eight finish in the 500 free. She took ninth in the 200 free at the NCAA Championships before adding a 14th-place finish in the 500 free. She became the first Husker swimmer to earn a pair of All-America awards at the same championship since 2001. She went on to advance to Wave II at the U.S. Olympic Trials in the summer of 2021.

All-America swimmer Audrey Coffey and All-America diver Sara Troyer also return for the Big Red in 2021-22.

The 2020-21 Huskers produced its best team finish at the Big Ten Championship since joined the conference in 2011-12.

In 2020, three Husker swimmers (Haebig, Coffey, Troyer, Madison Coughlen) qualified for the NCAA Championships. The national meet was ultimately canceled due to the world-wide outbreak of the coronavirus, but the four Huskers combined for five CSCAA All-America awards.

In 2019, Nebraska captured its fourth consecutive top-40 finish at the NCAA Championships by taking 33rd. Knapton captured her third consecutive first-team All-America honor on the platform, while adding an honorable-mention accolade in the three-meter dive.

In 2018, Nebraska finished 35th at the NCAA Championships, as Knapton captured first-team All-America honors on the platform for the second straight season. She was joined at the NCAA Championships by Haebig.

The Big Red took 33rd at nationals in 2017, when Knapton finished fourth on platform to capture her first All-America award.

In 2016, the Huskers finished 39th at the NCAA Championships, which included a 10th-place finish on the one-meter board by Anna Filipcic.The Huskers have sent at least one diver to the NCAA Championships in seven consecutive seasons.

Nebraska's rise in the pool and the diving well has occurred while maintaining elite performances in the classroom. In addition to Knapton's first-team CoSIDA Academic All-America award in 2021, Lindsay Helferich captured second-team CoSIDA Academic All-America honors after closing her career with a perfect 4.0 GPA as a civil engineering major in 2019. As a whole, Nebraska leads all of NCAA Division I with 347 CoSIDA Academic All-Americans all time across all sports.

Nebraska posted a program-record 3.747 GPA in the spring of 2020 to earn CSCAA Scholar All-America recognition as a team. Nebraska has been honored for 14 straight semesters by the CSCAA and the team has posted better than a 3.2 GPA for 18 consecutive semesters. In fact, the swimming and diving program owned the best GPA of any Nebraska team for three consecutive seasons (2015, 2016, 2017) to win the school's Herman Team GPA Award.

Nebraska's increased competitiveness in the pool and impressive success in the classroom and community are a far cry from the starting point of the Husker program when Morales took over the job in 2001. In his first season at NU, the Huskers went winless in 2001-02 (0-3) with a depleted roster.

Three years later, NU raced to an 8-1 dual record in 2004-05 and became the first Husker swimming and diving team in school history to win eight consecutive meets. Most importantly, Morales led the Huskers out of the bottom of the Big 12 with a fourth-place finish in 2004 and a third-place showing in 2005. Nebraska has continued to pursue a climb in conference prominence as it has transitioned to the Big Ten.

The Huskers are working to regain the national prowess they enjoyed in the 1990s, when they captured five Big Eight and Big 12 titles from 1994 to 1999.

A 1987 graduate of Stanford University, Morales is one of the greatest male swimmers in U.S. history, winning an NCAA-record 11 individual titles. He also helped lead the Cardinal to three consecutive NCAA titles and four Pac-10 titles, while twice earning Pac-10 Swimmer-of-the-Year honors and garnering six Pac-10 titles himself.

Morales remains the all-time leading scorer at the NCAA Championships, amassing 235 points. Morales was also the recipient of the 1987 Al Masters Award, which is Stanford's highest award for athletic performance, leadership and academic performance. He was the first male swimmer to win the award, and remains one of two to have accomplished that feat. Morales holds the Stanford record in the 200-yard butterfly (1:42.60) and held the school record in the 100-yard fly (46.25) until it was broken in 1998 by Sabir Muhammad (46.18).

While at Stanford, Morales was awarded the J.E. Sterling Award, which is presented to a student-athlete based on scholarship, leadership and community service. In addition, he served as the director of the Stanford Volunteers for Youth Program. Morales also found time to become a

A CoSIDA Academic All-America selection in 1987, Morales earned a law degree from Cornell in June of 1994, despite taking two years off from law school to train and compete at the Olympics.

An Olympic swimmer, Morales won three gold and two silver medals in the 1984 and 1992 Games, serving as a team captain for the 1992 squad. Following the 1992 Games, in which he returned to the pool after a three-year layoff to capture a gold medal in the 100-meter butterfly, Morales was named the U.S. Olympic Committee's Sportsman of the Year. He held the U.S. Open and NCAA record in the 100-yard fly with a time of 46.26, which stood for 13 years before being broken at the 1999 NCAA Championships.

Among Morales' greatest swimming accomplishments in the pool is holding the world record in the 100-meter butterfly with a time of 52.84 from 1986 until 1995.

Morales' legend in the Olympic Games lives on today, as the Nebraska coach served on the bid committee for the 2008 U.S. Olympic swimming trials that took place in Omaha. Morales had the chance to see the selection process and serve a role in the decision that gave Nebraska its first Olympic event in state history.

The Swimming Trials were a resounding success, and Omaha proved to be a worthy host for the event. More than 160,000 fans attended the event, shattering the previous mark by more than 50,000. In 2016, the U.S. Olympic Trials made their third consecutive appearance in Omaha, and more than 200,000 fans sold out every session of the event. The 2020 Trials returned to Omaha in the summer of 2021, after a one-year delay caused by the coronavirus pandemic.

Before coming to Nebraska, Morales served as the head women's swimming coach at San Jose State University. He held the reins as head coach from 1998 until being named coach at Nebraska in July of 2001. Morales rejuvenated a Spartan program that was near the bottom of the Western Athletic Conference. He was named the 2000 WAC Coach of the Year for his efforts.

While at San Jose State, Morales rebuilt a program and took the Spartans to the NCAA Championships after a 14-year absence. During his tenure, Morales produced six academic All-WAC swimmers. At the 2001 WAC Championships, five Spartans set school records under Morales' supervision, and three met NCAA qualification times. Seven others swam times that placed among the top three in school history.

Before his stint at SJSU, Morales was an assistant at his alma mater, Stanford, in 1997-98, helping lead the squad to the NCAA team title.

Morales also served as a graduate assistant at Cornell while pursuing his law degree. While at Cornell, Morales prepared and coached daily workouts for swimmers and assisted in recruiting. Morales has assisted in coaching with the San Jose Aquatics club group, as well as serving as head coach of the Stanford Masters Swim Team.

"As a coach, taking over the responsibilities at Nebraska represents a great opportunity to take a program with success and use the resources that only Nebraska can offer, the support from the athletic department, the University, the Lincoln area and the state, to take the program to a higher level," Morales said after he was hired. "Our goal is to take this program to the elite national level."

A powerful motivator, Morales hopes to keep his swimmers on the top of their games in and out of the pool, as Nebraska has established itself among the nation's best in academic support and athletics. Over the past nine seasons, nearly 80 percent of Morales' student-athletes have been named to the conference or Nebraska Scholar-Athlete Honor Roll each semester.

"I want our swimmers to achieve their goals of faster times and lifetime bests," Morales said. "I want them to have the best season that they have ever had, and I also want us to establish a team atmosphere and build an excitement toward Husker swimming and diving."

Former Stanford Head Coach Skip Kenny, who coached Morales at Stanford and also with Team USA, spoke highly of his former pupil.

"He's one of the most honest people that you will meet," Kenny said. "You will always get the truth out of him. He's very dedicated to the sport of swimming and to his athletes.

"As soon as the swimmers spend a few days or weeks with him, they will see how much he cares about them and the sport of swimming."

Kenny said Morales may have greater potential as a coach than swimmer.

"I honestly believe that he is a better coach than he was a swimmer, and that is saying a lot since he was one of the best swimmers in the world. He has done things with kids that I thought I would never see. If there is a female swimmer out there that wants to be the best in the world, I'd send her to swim for Pablo."

Morales' experiences as an NCAA and international swimmer, and a club and collegiate coach helps him in coaching and recruiting.

"In my experiences, I have been fortunate to have had a long career as a competitor. I was able to train with coaches who I think are some of the best in the world," Morales said. "I have learned from them, and I have learned from myself. I believe that all of my experiences have prepared me for coaching. I have a good feel for the contours of teams that are successful. I know how they practice, train and compete."

"My job is to instill confidence in a swimmer and teach her to expect a higher level of performance from herself. I want each swimmer to open her mind to what is possible. I want her to strive to exceed what she has done in the past each and every day. I want her to expect that more is possible."

Coach Morales' Philosophy

A gifted and noted public speaker and lecturer, Morales was a contributing author to The Swim Coaching Bible, published in 2001. In April of 2007, he was chosen as the U.S. Swimming Diversity Select Camp Head Coach, a four-day camp at the Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs, Colo. Aside from in-pool training, Morales also led motivational and educational sessions and team-building activities for boys and girls from all over the nation. These children were a part of an ethnically under-represented population that is less than 20 percent of the current USA Swimming membership.

Pablo is the son of Pedro and the late Blanca Morales, who came to the United States from Cuba in 1956. Pablo and his wife, Viviana, have four boys, Sam (23), Benjamin (20), Eli (18) and Gustavo (11).

Morales was born in Chicago and grew up in Santa Clara, Calif. He enjoys golfing in his spare time.

+12-Time MAC Finalist
+Two-Time MAC Team Champions
+Two-Time Nebraska Class A State Champion (Lincoln Southeast)

Patrick Rowan is in his 10th season as Nebraska's associate head coach, helping the Huskers continue to build a nationally competitive women's swimming and diving program.

In 2020-21, Rowan helped guide Nebraska to its best finish since 2001, placing 26th at the NCAA Championships.

Autumn Haebig put herself in the Husker record books by capturing All-America honors in both the 200 free (9th) and 500 free (14th) at the NCAA Championships. She became the first Husker swimmer to earn more than one All-America award at nationals since 2001.

Audrey Coffey joined Haebig at the NCAA Championships and just missed All-America honors after finishing 19th in the 1,650-yard freestyle in a school-record time of 16:14.19.

Both Coffey and Haebig return to lead the Husker swimmers in 2021-22.

Haebig and Coffey also helped lead a strong performance by the Big Red at the 2021 Big Ten Championships. The Huskers produced their best Big Ten finish since joining the conference in 2011-12, while Haebig captured Nebraska's first-ever Big Ten individual gold medal with her win in the 200 freestyle. She also became the first Husker swimmer to win All-Big Ten honors.

Throughout the 2021 season, a total of 11 swimmers made their way into the Husker record book by producing a top-10 time in NU history, and all 11 return for the Big Red in 2021-22.

In 2019-20, Rowan helped three Husker swimmers earn CSCAA All-America honors with school-record-setting performances by Haebig (200 free), Coffey (1,000 free) and Madison Coughlen (200 fly).

Rowan, who returned to Nebraska after spending five years as an assistant coach at Missouri, helped the Tigers become one of the nation's top-15 programs during his time in Columbia (2008-12).

The graduate of Lincoln Southeast High School and former Husker volunteer assistant coach returned to the Big Red for the 2012-13 season and has helped the Huskers produce five consecutive top-40 team finishes at the NCAA Championships.

"Patrick brings extensive and successful coaching and recruiting experience at the collegiate level," Nebraska Coach Pablo Morales said. "Patrick has a tremendous work ethic and an unmatched passion for Nebraska. He has made a major impact on our program and plays a key role in helping us achieve our Big Ten Conference and NCAA goals."

Nebraska's 2021-22 incoming class may provided its greatest influx of talent in recent years, led by Tokyo Olympian Beatriz Padron (Costa Rica), Serbian sensation Milica Opacic and Nebraska High School Swimmer of the Year and 10-time NISCA All-American JoJo Randby (Omaha). Ilaria Murzilli (Italy) comes to Nebraska as the No. 86 recruit in the world by CollegeSwimming, while Padron was No. 153 and Randby was No. 205. Opacic was ranked No. 156 by SwimCloud, while Maia Hall (England), Madison Lloyd (Texas) and Sydney McCracken (Pennsylvania) also bring impressive credentials. The Huskers will also be bolstered by two-time first-team All-Big 12 transfer Emily Haimes (England).

In Rowan's first eight seasons at Nebraska, Husker swimmers set 23 school records across all events, and those records kept falling in 2020-21.

In 2017-18, Rowan helped Haebig, a 14-time Wisconsin high school state champion, earn her first trip to the NCAA Championships as a true freshman. Haebig, who finished 10th in the 100 backstroke and 12th in the 200 freestyle at the 2018 Big Ten Championships, closed her season with a 40th-place NCAA finish in the 100 back. She added a 43rd-place showing in the 500 free at the NCAA meet. Haebig set career bests in all three of those events late in the season at either the Big Ten Championships or the NCAA Last Chance meet.

In 2018, SwimSwam.com ranked the Nebraska swimming and diving program No. 1 in the nation for recruiting, retention and improvement among all NCAA Division I women's programs.

In 2017-18, the Husker swimmers produced 26 NCAA B qualifying standards, which represented an increase in that total for the sixth consecutive season for Nebraska.

In 2016, six Huskers qualified for the U.S. Olympic Trials, while two more international swimmers qualified for their trials.

In 2016-17, Erin Oeltjen set a school record in the 100 and 200-yard backstroke, while Dana Posthuma notched the second-best time in school history in the 200-yard butterfly (1:58.16).

In 2014-15, Rowan guided the 200-yard freestyle relay to the second-best time in school history at the Big Ten Championships.

In Rowan's second season at NU (2013-14), he helped 14 swimmers to personal bests in the sprint freestyle events.

Rowan served as Nebraska's primary sprint freestyle coach in 2012-13. He saw the 200- and 400-yard freestyle relay teams swim school-record times at the 2013 Big Ten Championships. Taryn Collura swam a school record in the 50-yard freestyle and became the first Husker to qualify for the NCAA Championships in six years.

A Nebraska native, Rowan helped orchestrate a steady rise into national prominence at Missouri. In his first season at MU, Rowan helped the Tiger women's team finish 38th at the 2008 NCAA Championships. After a 28th-place showing in 2009, the Tigers climbed to 23rd in 2011 before finishing 14th at the 2012 NCAA meet.

Rowan served as the power sprints coach while also working with the middle distance group at Missouri. He was the recruiting coordinator for the Tiger men's program while assisting with recruiting on the women's side. The Tiger men's 2011 recruiting class was ranked seventh nationally by collegeswimming.com, while the women's class was ranked 18th. He served as the director of the Mizzou Swim Camp and coached the Mizzou Swim Team (USA Swimming Club).

In addition to serving as a volunteer assistant at Nebraska in 2006-07, Rowan was a long-time coach in the Nebraska Aquatics program.

From 2002 until 2007, Rowan served as the head coach and general manager of the Nebraska Aquatics swim team, where he was the primary coach of the high school and collegiate swimmers. He also served as an age group coach for swimmers from ages 6 to 24 for Nebraska Aquatics from 2000 to 2002.

From 2003 to 2007, he served as the age group chairman for the Midwestern Swimming Executive Board. He was named Midwestern Swimming Coach of the Year in 2006-07, after being named its Age Group Coach of the Year in 2004-05.

A competitive swimmer from 1985 to 2001, Rowan swam collegiately at Eastern Michigan, helping EMU to a pair of Mid-American Conference championships. Individually, he was a 12-time finalist at the MAC Championships for the Eagles.

As a prep swimmer at Lincoln Southeast, Rowan was a two-time Nebraska Class A state champion and a member of a state championship team for the Knights. He was also a team captain and a seven-time Junior National qualifier.

Rowan, who earned his bachelor's degree in psychology from Eastern Michigan in 2000, received his master's degree in education with an emphasis in school and counseling psychology/sport psychology from Missouri in 2009. He is currently pursuing a Ph.D. with a similar emphasis in sport psychology.

He and his wife, Miranda, have a two daughters, Reese and Quinn, and a son, Luke.

He coached Rebel divers to three individual conference titles in his three seasons in Las Vegas, and helped his divers set five school records. He also took fourth on the platform at the 2008 NCAA Championships to claim first-team All-America honors for the first time in his career, while adding top-16 national finishes on both the one and three meter boards. Marzullo took fifth on platform for the Hoosiers at the 2009 NCAA Championships.

TREV ALBERTS

Vice Chancellor, Director of Athletics First Season

A veteran administrator and College Football Hall of Famer, Trev Alberts was named Vice Chancellor, Director of Athletics at the University of Nebraska on July 14, 2021. Alberts returned to his alma mater after spending 12 years at Nebraska-Omaha, guiding the program through a successful transition to the Division I level.

Alberts' tenure leading UNO athletics was marked by successes in competition and in academics; by transitioning the university's athletic programs to NCAA Division I in 2011; and by establishing new homes for many UNO athletics teams, including Baxter Arena, the Maverick Park baseball/softball complex and the soccer pitch at Caniglia Field.

Alberts took the bold step in announcing that Omaha would reclassify from Division II to Division I in all sports in 2011 and simultaneously securing conference affiliation with the Summit League for all of the department's then-Division II programs. His vision for UNO's reclassifying teams was demonstrated even before the four-year transition period had ended. The Omaha baseball team won back-to-back Summit League regular-season championships in 2013 and 2014, while the men's basketball team made its first Division I postseason appearance in 2014 with a berth in the CollegeInsider.com Postseason Tournament.

During UNO's time in the Division I ranks under Alberts tenure, the Mavericks had six teams and four student-athletes qualify for the NCAA Tournament, including hockey advancing to the Frozen Four in 2015 and men's soccer reaching the second round of the NCAA Tournament in the spring of 2021. He also expanded opportunities, adding men's golf and men's soccer in 2011 and Omaha will begin a men's swimming and diving program in 2021-22.

Throughout his tenure in Omaha, Alberts was focused on enhancing the student-athlete experience, including the construction and staffing of the Hamilton Academic Excellence Room and the development of the Ethel S. Abbott Student-Athlete Development Wing. Those efforts paid off in Nebraska-Omaha student-athletes posting consistent collective semester grade point averages above 3.3 for 18 consecutive semesters, including at least a 3.5 in each of his final three semesters.

The facilities around Omaha Athletics received a major uplift during his tenure. Maverick Park opened in March of 2021 to rave reviews as the home to the Mavericks' baseball and softball programs. Funding for the complex, which includes a 1,500-seat baseball facility and a 650-seat softball facility, were raised privately and provided both programs a permanent on-campus home for the first time.

Another crowning achievement was the opening of Baxter Arena in 2015. Alberts directed efforts to secure community support and funding to build the on-campus arena, which allowed the nationally prominent hockey program to play on campus and also serve as the home of the men's and women's basketball and volleyball programs. Caniglia Field underwent renovations in 2012, making it one of the finest collegiate soccer facilities in the country, highlighted by a FIFA 2-star rated playing surface and one of the largest LED videoboards in a soccer-only college facility.

Alberts' work on behalf of hockey, UNO's established Division I sport, also paid dividends. He successfully guided the Mavericks into the new National Collegiate Hockey Conference in 2013-14. The following year, Omaha reached the 2015 NCAA Frozen Four.

In addition, Alberts and his team led Omaha Athletics into a partnership with Learfield, a national leader in the marketing of collegiate athletics, and developed Omaha Sports Properties. As the exclusive corporate sponsorship sales unit for UNO Athletics, Omaha Sports Properties further enhanced revenue and increased brand prominence locally, regionally and nationally.

SCOTT FUESS JR.

Faculty Athletics Representative Second Season

Scott M. Fuess Jr. was named the University of Nebraska-Lincoln faculty athletics representative on Feb. 21, 2020.

As faculty athletics representative, Fuess serves as a liaison between the Office of the Chancellor and Athletic Department. Areas of focus in the role include the welfare of student-athletes, maintaining the positive relationship between athletics and faculty, NCAA compliance, developing and responding to NCAA legislative proposals and representing the university at related NCAA and Big Ten Conference meetings.

The half-time position - which was restructured to an expected term of five years - reports directly to Chancellor Ronnie Green and consults with the Athletic Director. The representative splits academic year time equally between academic responsibilities and faculty representative duties.

Fuess, the Steinhart Distinguished Professor of Business and former chair of the College of Business' economics department, has worked at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln since 1986. He serves on the Faculty Senate's Intercollegiate Athletics Committee, having chaired the committee for 2018-19 and a sub-committee in 2017-18.

In August 2018, Fuess was named director of the university's cross-disciplinary master's degree program that offers a specialization in intercollegiate athletics administration. The program - which has been completed by 48 Huskers - is built on MBA coursework, allowing students to earn hands-on experiences through Nebraska Athletics, industry professionals, other universities and alumni.

Fuess earned a bachelor's degree from the University of Delaware, as well as master's and doctoral degrees from Purdue University. His research interests revolve around issues of economics, primarily in labor, collegiate athletics and Japan.

TED CARTER

University of Nebraska President Second Season

Ted Carter became the eighth president of the University of Nebraska on Jan. 1, 2020, following a national search by the Board of Regents.

As president, Carter leads a four-campus university system that enrolls nearly 52,000 students and employs 16,000 faculty and staff on campuses in Lincoln, Omaha and Kearney, plus academic divisions and research and extension centers across the state. He serves as chief spokesman and chief executive officer for the system, which operates on a $2.8 billion annual budget and includes a flagship Big Ten institution, a world-renowned academic health sciences center, Division I athletics programs, and preeminent institutes focused on water and agriculture, national security and defense, infectious disease and early childhood education.

Carter brought with him a distinguished record in education, partnerships and military service, having come to Nebraska from the U.S. Naval Academy, his alma mater, where he served as superintendent. Under his leadership, the Naval Academy achieved a No. 1 national ranking and new records in student success and diversity. Carter previously was president of the U.S. Naval War College in Newport, R.I. A retired Vice Admiral with 38 years of service, Carter has logged more than 6,300 flying hours and holds the American record for carrier-arrested landings.

In his first year at the University of Nebraska – faced with the unexpected and unprecedented challenges presented by COVID-19 – Carter has led with a focus on the land-grant priorities of access and opportunity for students and families. He launched the Nebraska Promise, a financial aid program guaranteeing free tuition for low- and middle-income Nebraskans, and implemented a multi-year budget plan that included a two-year, across-the-board tuition freeze. The result was system-wide growth in enrollment, including record gains among underrepresented students.

Carter oversaw the awarding of a $92 million federal contract for the university's National Strategic Research Institute, one of only 14 University-Affiliated Research Centers in the country conducting exclusive research for the Department of Defense. During Carter's tenure, the NU system has been ranked among the world's top 100 institutions for earning research patents, the Omaha campus was selected as the home for a new federal counterterrorism research center, the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources launched a new effort focused on rural vitality, and the medical center opened an education, training and preparedness facility that positions Nebraska as the world leader in the fight against infectious disease.

Carter serves as the chair of the Daugherty Water for Food Global Institute's Board of Directors. He is a board member for the Greater Omaha Chamber of Commerce, the Nebraska State Chamber of Commerce and Industry, the Naval Historical Foundation and the Naval Aviation Museum Foundation. Carter is also a member of the Aspen Institute's Higher Education Working Group and the Association of Public and Land-Grant Universities' Council of Presidents. He is an ex-officio member on the board of the University of Nebraska Foundation, the philanthropic partner of the university system that has a $1.7 billion endowment.

Carter earned his bachelor's degree in physics and oceanography from the U.S. Naval Academy, where he played hockey and served as team captain. He is a graduate of the Navy Fighter Weapons School (Top Gun) and holds educational credentials from the Navy Nuclear Power School, the U.S. Air Force Air War College, the Naval War College and the Armed Forces Staff College. Carter's military career includes service for the Carrier Strike Group Twelve, in which he commanded 20 ships, two nuclear-powered aircraft carriers, and two carrier wings that were deployed to Afghanistan and the Arabian Gulf.

The son of an English teacher, Carter was raised in the rural, one-high school town of Burrillville, R.I. He and his wife, Lynda, live in Lincoln and have two adult children, Brittany and Christopher.

BIG TEN CONFERENCE

Kevin Warren
Commissioner

Known as one of intercollegiate sports' most successful undertakings, the Big Ten is home to a lineage of legendary names and an ongoing tradition of developing strong leaders. Even in its infancy, the conference established itself as the preeminent collection of institutions in the nation, where the pursuit of academic excellence prevailed as the definitive goal.

The history of the Big Ten traces back more than 120 years to the Palmer House hotel in Chicago, where on Jan. 11, 1895, then-Purdue president James H. Smart and leaders from the University of Chicago, Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota, Northwestern and Wisconsin set out to organize and develop principles for the regulation of intercollegiate athletics.

At that meeting, a blueprint for the administration of college athletics under the direction of appointed faculty representatives was outlined. The presidents' first known action "restricted eligibility for athletics to bonafide, full-time students who were not delinquent in their studies." That important legislation, along with other legislation that would follow in the coming years, served as the primary building block for intercollegiate athletics.

On Feb. 8, 1896, one faculty member from each of those seven universities met at the same Palmer House and officially established the mechanics of the conference, which was officially incorporated as the "Intercollegiate Conference Athletic Association" in 1905.

Indiana and the Iowa became the eighth and ninth members in 1899. In 1908, Michigan briefly withdrew its membership, and in 1912 Ohio State joined the conference, bringing its membership total back to nine. Upon Michigan's return in 1917, the conference was first referred to as the "Big Ten" by media members, and that name was eventually incorporated in 1987.

As the 1900s opened, faculty representatives established rules for intercollegiate athletics that were novel for the time. As early as 1904, the faculty approved legislation that required eligible athletes to meet entrance requirements and to have completed a full year's work, along with having one year of residence.

In 1901, the first Big Ten Championship event was staged when the outdoor track and field championships were held at the University of Chicago. The debut event marked what is now a staple of conference competition. Today, the Big Ten sponsors 28 official sports, 14 for men and 14 for women, including the addition of men's ice hockey and men's and women's lacrosse over the last four years. Big Ten schools compete in a total of 42 different sports, furthering the conference's commitment to broad-based programming and providing more participation opportunities than any conference in the country.

One of the conference's proudest traditions began in 1902 when Michigan took on Stanford in the Rose Bowl, the nation's first bowl game. Big Ten teams only appeared in Pasadena twice before the conference signed an exclusive contract with the Tournament of Roses in 1946, making it the first bowl game with permanent conference affiliations. But Michigan's appearance in 1902 cultivated a relationship that has endured for more than a century. In January 2014, Michigan State defeated Stanford in the 100th Rose Bowl Game.

Coupling the academic goals set forth by the leaders of the charter members of the conference and their steadfast commitment to athletics, the conference instituted the Big Ten Medal of Honor in 1915. It is awarded annually by each conference institution to a student of the graduating class who has attained the greatest proficiency in scholarship and athletics. For more than 100 years, it has been the most prestigious honor a student competing in Big Ten athletics can receive.

In 1922, Major John L. Griffith became the conference's first "Commissioner of Athletics." Griffith was the first of six men to assume the role of commissioner in the conference's history, followed by Kenneth L. "Tug" Wilson in 1945, Bill Reed in 1961, Wayne Duke in 1971, Jim Delany in 1989, and current commissioner Kevin Warren in 2020.

After nearly 30 years with 10 members, the conference consolidated to nine schools when the University of Chicago formally withdrew its membership in 1946. Michigan State was added to the Big Ten three years later, bringing the number of affiliated conference schools to 10 once again.

In 1955, the Big Ten formulated a revenue-sharing model designed to pool all football television rights of its members and share those proceeds equally. The conference and its members continue to utilize a revenue-sharing model, dividing media rights, bowl payouts and other profits among all conference institutions.

While academics have always played an integral role in the conference, presidents of the Big Ten member institutions formalized the primacy of academics with the establishment of the Big Ten Academic Alliance (formerly the Committee on Institutional Cooperation) in 1958. The Big Ten Academic Alliance is an academic consortium of all Big Ten universities. Annually, the schools currently constituting the Big Ten Academic Alliance produced over $10 billion in funded research, $5 billion more than any other conference.

In one of Duke's first actions as commissioner, he oversaw the adoption of the Big Ten Advisory Commission in 1972, designed to study conference programs and make suggestions which would further Big Ten objectives. The Advisory Commission enlists former students that competed in Big Ten athletics to serve as liaisons to the NCAA's Diversity and Inclusion Department, the Big Ten Student-Athlete Advisory Commission and other organizations.

In 1981, the conference presidents and chancellors endorsed a proposal that enabled universities to affiliate their women's intercollegiate programs with the conference, and the first conference championships for women were staged that fall. The Big Ten was the first conference to voluntarily adopt male and female participation goals after launching its Gender Equity Action Plan in 1992.

In December of 1989, the conference agreed in principle to invite Penn State for membership. On June 4, 1990, the Council of Presidents officially voted to integrate Penn State into the conference.

In 2004, the Big Ten implemented a pilot program of instant replay for college football. Following the season, the conference forwarded replay proposals to the NCAA regarding the future use of instant replay, where it approved country-wide testing in 2005. In 2006, the NCAA approved the use of instant replay for all conferences.

In 2006, Delany announced the creation of the first conference-owned television network, a 20-year agreement with FOX Networks to create what would become the Big Ten Network (BTN). Launched on Aug. 30, 2007, BTN now produces more than 1,800 events across all platforms each year. BTN is in almost 60 million homes in the U.S. and Canada via the nation's major video providers and more than 300 additional video providers across the country. BTN is also available through the majority of OTT providers, and via the Fox Sports App, which delivers live and on-demand programming to computers, smartphones and tablets. In addition, the BTN+ platform streams hundreds of events each season.

On June 11, 2010, the Big Ten Council of Presidents/Chancellors (COP/C) approved a formal membership application by Nebraska, which officially joined the Big Ten on July 1, 2011.

The conference expanded its footprint further in 2012 when the COP/C approved formal membership applications from Maryland and Rutgers on Nov. 19 and 20, respectively. Maryland and Rutgers became official Big Ten members on July 1, 2014, giving the conference almost 9,500 students participating in intercollegiate athletics and more than 11,000 participation opportunities on 350 teams.

On June 3, 2013, the Big Ten announced that Johns Hopkins University had been accepted as the conference's first sport affiliate member. Johns Hopkins' addition in men's lacrosse gave the Big Ten six institutions sponsoring the sport, allowing the debut of men's lacrosse as an official conference sport and building on the Big Ten's tradition of broad-based sports competition. On June 17, 2015, the conference announced that Johns Hopkins was accepted as a sport affiliate member for women's lacrosse beginning with the 2016-17 academic year. On March 23, 2016, the conference announced that Notre Dame would be joining the Big Ten for men's ice hockey beginning with the 2017-18 academic year.

Since opening in the fall of 2013, the Big Ten conference center hosts more than 300 meetings annually for member institutions, Big Ten Academic Alliance (formerly CIC) related committees and coaches' groups. The headquarters also features an interactive digital museum — the Big Ten Experience — which brings the conference's storied academic and athletic history to life. For more information on the Big Ten Experience, go to bigten.org.

In June 2014, the Big Ten opened a second office in New York City, featuring both office and meeting space in Midtown Manhattan. Big Ten staff members are based in the New York City office to provide expanded coverage and service, while other conference and institutional administrators utilize the space as necessary when conducting business on the East Coast. The Big Ten and its member institutions also have access to satellite office space in Washington, D.C.

Warren and his staff work to meet the educational needs of student-athletes to allow them to excel in all areas of their lives. The conference office manages 27 different championships and tournaments, offers legislative and compliance services, oversees the production and distribution of more than 2,000 events annually, provides staff services to coaching and administrative personnel, and remains a vital resource for media and fans seeking information on the Big Ten.

During his first year, Warren has helped spark a number of groundbreaking conference initiatives. On March 7, 2020, in advance of the rising tide of the COVID-19 pandemic, the conference partnered with all 14 of its member institutions to create the Big Ten Task Force for Emerging Infectious Diseases. This group was formed to provide counsel and sound medical advice to ensure the health, safety and wellness of the Big Ten's students, coaches, administrators and fans. It includes representatives from a diverse set of disciplines across campus healthcare systems and schools of public health and their input serves as a resource for the conference in making important decisions based on information received from local, state and federal health departments, along with the NCAA.

Less than two months later on May 4, 2020, the conference announced the formation of the Big Ten Mental Health and Wellness Cabinet, featuring representation from all 14 member institutions, as well as sport affiliate members Johns Hopkins (men's and women's lacrosse) and Notre Dame (men's ice hockey). The goal of the cabinet is to promote optimal mental health for Big Ten student-athletes through a comprehensive, systemic and interdisciplinary approach to establishing mental health programs, while also providing counsel, advice and expertise to the conference office.

Following the death of Minneapolis resident George Floyd, Warren penned an open letter on June 1, 2020, announcing the formation of what became known as the Big Ten Equality Coalition. This group, which features student-athletes, coaches, athletic directors, chancellors, presidents and other members of the Big Ten family from all 14 member institutions, has a stated goal of seeking tangible ways to actively and constructively combat racism and hate around the world, while also empowering student-athletes to express their rights to free speech and peaceful protest. The United States Library of Congress selected Warren's open letter for inclusion in its historic collection.

A product of the conversations emerging from the coalition was the creation of the Big Ten Voter Registration Initiative. This non-partisan, conference-wide collaboration encourages student-athletes to take part in the electoral process and is led by a Voter Registration Committee that includes representatives from all 14 Big Ten institutions. The Voter Registration Committee has partnered with the National Lawyers' Committee for Civil Rights Under Law to develop educational programming and outreach tools, and to collaborate with other established civic platforms.

More than 125 years after its inception, the Big Ten remains a national leader in intercollegiate athletics on and off the field. Big Ten programs have combined to win more than 450 team and 1,800 individual national championships, consistently taking home individual honors for athletic and academic accomplishments and fulfilling the Big Ten's mission of academic achievement and athletic success.

REVIEW & HISTORY

ALL-AMERICANS HAEBIG, KNAPTON LEAD HUSKERS

Autumn Haebig became Nebraska's first Big Ten Conference swimming champion when she took gold in the 200-yard freestyle in Minneapolis. Haebig, who became Nebraska's first All-Big Ten swimmer, went on to a pair of All-America awards in the 200 and 500 free at the NCAA Championships.

Despite battling through a season altered by the COVID-19 pandemic, the 2020-21 campaign was a memorable one for the Nebraska swimming and diving program.

Four Huskers qualified for the 2021 NCAA Championships, and Nebraska produced its best finish (26th) at nationals since 2001.

Abigail Knapton became the most accomplished diver in Nebraska history throughout the season. The fifth-year senior from Omaha became the first member of the Nebraska swimming and diving program to capture first-team All-America honors in the same event four times.

Knapton's eighth-place finish on platform at the NCAA Championships marked her fourth consecutive first-team All-America award in the event. Her performance on platform followed an eighth-place finish on the three-meter dive to capture first-team All-America honors in that event as well.

Overall, Knapton closed her storied Husker career with six All-America awards, including five first-team All-America honors.

In the pool, Nebraska also witnessed breakthrough performances by Autumn Haebig at the national championships.

Haebig captured All-America honors in both the 200 and 500 freestyle events, becoming the first Husker swimmer to capture All-America honors in two individual events at the same NCAA Championships since 2001.

Haebig's ninth-place finish in the 200 free and 14th-place performance in the 500 put up 11 big team points for the Big Red at nationals, joining the 22 scored by Knapton to give Nebraska its most team points (33) at the NCAA Championships since 2000.

After the meet, Nebraska Coach Pablo Morales noted the true significance of Haebig's outstanding performances.

"Autumn earning trips to the finals in both her events has helped put Nebraska swimming on the map at these NCAA Championships," Morales said. "Especially by winning the consolation final in the 200 in very exciting fashion."

Audrey Coffey added an historic effort of her own at the NCAA meet, racing to a school-record time of 16:14.19 in the 1,650-yard freestyle.

Coffey's lifetime best broke a 14-year-old Nebraska school record. She entered nationals as the No. 34 seed, but just missed All-America honors of her own with a 19th-place finish.

Diver Sara Troyer gave Nebraska four individuals competing at the NCAA Championships. Troyer finished 19th in the one-meter prelims and 27th in the three-meter prelims in her first appearance at the national meet.

Haebig set the tone in the pool by becoming Nebraska's first-ever Big Ten swimming champion with her victory in the 200-yard freestyle. She raced to a school-record time of 1:44.39 in the 200, while adding a fifth-place finish in the 500 free and a ninth-place showing in the 100 free.

Knapton made more history of her own by becoming the first Husker to win a Big Ten diving championship. Not only did she capture the Big Ten title on platform, she added a second gold medal on the one meter. She also claimed silver on the three-meter board on her way to being named the Big Ten Diver of the Meet. Her individual performances scored 92 points for the Big Red in the team competition, but she wasn't the only Husker diver bringing home big points.

Troyer dove to a bronze medal on the one-meter board and added a 10th-place finish in the three-meter event.

Back in the pool, the Huskers scored points up and down their roster in nearly every event.

Nebraska's deep distance freestyle corps scored well in the 1,650 free, led by a 10th-place finish from Coffey. Katelyn Kilpatrick added 22nd in that event, while true freshman Molly Rosenthal showed her potential by taking 32nd.

In the 200 butterfly, Maggie Berning notched a top-16 finish by taking 15th, while three Huskers made appearances in the C-final, including Izzie Murray, Shannon Stott and Madison Coughlen.

Murray won the C-final in the 200 fly, placing 17th overall with Stott right behind in 18th. Coughlen took 22nd.

The Huskers also got multiple top-24 finishes in the 400 IM, led by a 19th-place finish from Coughlen and a 20th-place performance from Berkeley Livingston.

Nebraska received major boosts from 2020-21 newcomers as well.

True freshman Ella Stein raced to a spot in the B-final in the 200 breaststroke, finishing 15th in her first appearance at the Big Ten meet.

The impressive showings allowed the Huskers to produce their best finish (7th, 542.5 points) since joining the Big Ten Conference in 2011-12.

Nebraska's history-making runs at the Big Ten and NCAA Championships came despite multiple and massive disruptions in training caused by COVID-19, dating back to March of 2020 when the 2019-20 season came to a grinding halt prior to the NCAA Championships.

The pandemic also eliminated the fall portion of the 2020 regular season, and did away with non-conference competition in dual meets.

However, the Huskers considered themselves lucky to be competing and embraced the abbreviated schedule while adjusting their training regimens.

Nebraska opened the regular season with a dual meet at Iowa on Jan. 16, before playing host to Illinois in its lone home dual meet of the season on Jan. 23.

The Big Red traveled to Minnesota for a tri-dual against the Golden Gophers and Iowa on Feb. 6, splitting the competition with a win over the Hawkeyes but a loss to Minnesota.

The early February journey to Minneapolis allowed the Husker swimmers to become acquainted with the conditions in the pool that played host to the Big Ten Championships (Feb. 23-27).

While the swimmers competed in the Twin Cities, the Husker divers took the well in West Lafayette, Ind., where Knapton made history as the Big Ten Diver of the Meet after winning two golds and a silver on her way to becoming NU's first All-Big Ten diver.

Knapton, Haebig and Coffey continued to represent the Huskers well following the completion of the collegiate season.

At the end of Nebraska's academic year, Knapton brought home nearly every major award possible. She became the first Husker swimmer or diver to be named Nebraska's Female Student-Athlete of the Year. She added a Big Ten Medal of Honor while also being named Nebraska's Best Female Athlete across all sports.

The impressive scholastic honors continued to come to Knapton, as she was voted a first-team CoSIDA Academic All-American. She added a coveted NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship to her academic hardware haul, which also included being named a Nebraska Outstanding Scholar, a Big Ten Distinguished Scholar and a first-team CSCAA Scholar All-American for the fourth time.

Knapton was one of six Huskers to earn CSCAA Scholar All-America accolades, including Haebig, Coffey, Troyer, Coughlen and Murray.

In September, Knapton was among 30 finalists for the 2021 NCAA Woman of the Year award.

In competition, Knapton also represented the Huskers well at the U.S. Olympic Team Diving Trials in Indianapolis. She capped a remarkable trials performance with her fifth-place finish on platform on June 13 at the IU Natatorium.

She was the only diver in the competition who advanced to the 12-person finals in both the platform and three-meter board, after taking seventh on three meter.

Knapton proudly displayed the Nebraska "N" on her chest throughout the U.S. Olympic Trials.

She was not alone in her success at the Olympic Trials level. At the CHI Health Center in Omaha, both Haebig and Coffey advanced to Wave II in the adjusted format of the trials.

Coffey capped Nebraska's performances at the trials by finishing 24th in the women's 1,500-meter freestyle in a time of 16:56.31.

Haebig recorded her top trials finish by taking 43rd in the prelims of the 400-meter freestyle in a time of 4:19.41. She added a 44th-place finish in the 200-meter free with a time of 2:02.72. She also produced a 57th-place performance in the 100-meter backstroke in a time of 1:03.10.

Although the current Huskers came up short in their shots at making the 2020 U.S. Olympic Team in Tokyo, a future Husker continued a streak of a Big Red swimmer or diver competing in nine consecutive Olympic Games dating back to 1988.

Beatriz Padron, a 2021-22 Husker freshman from Costa Rica, competed in the 200-meter freestyle for her home country in Tokyo. The only female swimmer in the Costa Rican Olympic contingent, Padron raced to a career-best time of 2:04.56.

Abigail Knapton was the first Husker diver to be a first-team All-American and earn first-team CoSIDA Academic All-America honors in the same season.

INDIVIDUAL ACADEMIC AWARDS

CoSIDA ACADEMIC ALL-AMERICA AWARD WINNERS

ABI KNAPTON 2021

Abi Knapton was the first Husker women's swimmer or diver to capture All-America honors in both competition and in the classroom. A six-time All-American, Knapton claimed first-team CoSIDA Academic All-America accolades in the at-large category in 2021. She posted a 3.93 GPA as a psychology major over her five-year career and was a four-time first-time All-American on platform. She was the first Husker swimmer or diver to earn first-team All-America honors four times in the same event.

As a senior in 2021, Knapton was named the Big Ten Diver of the Meet after winning conference titles in both the platform and the one meter. She added first-team All-America honors on the platform and three-meter events at the 2021 NCAA Championships, before becoming the only female diver to finish in the top eight in both platform and three meter at the U.S. Diving Team Olympic Trials in Indianapolis. Knapton was also the 2021 Big Ten runner-up on three meter and an honorable-mention All-American in the event in 2019.

Knapton was voted Nebraska's Female Student-Athlete of the Year and Nebraska's Best Female Athlete across all sports in 2021. She was also an NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship recipient following her Nebraska graduation in May 2021.

The Omaha Marian High School grad was a four-time CSCAA Scholastic All-American (2017, 2018, 2019, 2021), a four-time Big Ten Distinguished Scholar and a four-time Academic All-Big Ten selection (2018, 2019, 2020, 2021). She was a 10-time Nebraska Scholar-Athlete Honor Roll selection and a five-time member of the Tom Osborne Citizenship Team.

LINDSAY HELFERICH 2019

Lindsay Helferich etched her name in Husker history by becoming Nebraska's third swimming and diving CoSIDA Academic All-American in 2019. Helferich claimed second-team honors in the at-large category following her senior season by posting a perfect 4.0 GPA during her career.

Helferich, a freestyle and backstroke specialist, was one of nine Huskers to be named a Nebraska Outstanding Scholar. She added a 1A FAR Academic Excellence Award and was recognized for the third time as a Big Ten Distinguished Scholar.

She also excelled in competition, finishing 26th in the 50-yard freestyle at the 2019 Big Ten Championships. Helferich posted her top career Big Ten finish by taking 21st in the 100 backstroke in 2018, while adding 27th-place showings in the 50 and 100 freestyles the same year. As a freshman in 2016, she took 24th in the 200 back at the conference meet.

Before coming to Nebraska, Helferich was a top-16 finalist in the 200 back and a top-24 finalist in the 200 free at the Southern Zone Sectional Championships. She was also the valedictorian of her class at Odessa High School in Texas.

She earned her bachelor's degree from Nebraska in May of 2019 as a civil engineering major. She was a three-time academic All-Big Ten choice and earned eight spots on the Nebraska Scholar-Athlete Honor Roll. She was also a four-time Tom Osborne Citizenship Team member.

KAITLIN ARNTZ 2010

Kaitlin Arntz earned third-team CoSIDA Academic All-America honors in the at-large category following her senior season for the Huskers in 2010.

Arntz was one of Nebraska's top breaststroke and individual medley swimmers during her time in Lincoln. She capped her outstanding career by becoming the first CoSIDA Academic All-America women's swimmer in school history.

Arntz capped her competitive career with a fourth-place finish in the 200-yard breaststroke at the 2010 Big 12 Championships. She added a fourth-place performance in the 100 breast and a sixth-place showing in the 200 IM.

She finished fifth in the 200-yard breaststroke and 11th in the 200 IM at the 2009 Big 12 Championships. She was Nebraska's team MVP as a junior.

As both a freshman and sophomore, Arntz finished eighth in the 200 breast and 10th in the 100 breast at the Big 12 Championships.

Arntz joined the Huskers after a stellar high school career at Millard West in Omaha. She was a 16-time All-American at Millard West and a five-Nebraska state champion. She closed her high school career holding seven school records.

An advertising major at Nebraska, Arntz was nominated with a 3.94 cumulative GPA. She also earned first-team CoSIDA All-District VII honors. An honorable-mention CSCAA Scholar-All-America selection in 2010, Arntz was also a three-time academic All-Big 12 Conference selection for the Big Red from 2008 to 2010.

COURTNEY JENSEN 2000

Courtney Jensen capped an outstanding academic and athletic career as a first-team CoSIDA Academic All-America selection in the at-large category as a senior in 2000.

Jensen, a Husker co-captain and four-year letterwinner from Sheridan, Wyo., was a leader for Nebraska in the diving well throughout her career.

As a senior, Jensen produced a career-best 11th-place finish on the three-meter board at the 2000 Big 12 Conference Championships. She added a 17th-place performance in the one-meter dive.

As a junior, Jensen took 13th on the three-meter board at the 1999 Big 12 Championships, while adding a 23rd-place finish in the one-meter event.

Those performances followed a sophomore season in which she placed 21st on the three-meter and 22nd on the one-meter at the 1998 Big 12 Championships.

She opened her Husker career with 13th-place finishes on both the one- and three-meter boards as a freshman at the 1997 Big 12 meet.

A high school All-American both in competition and in the classroom, Jensen was a two-time Wyoming state champion at Sheridan High School.

An elementary education major at Nebraska, Jensen was nominated for the CoSIDA Academic All-America At-Large team with a perfect 4.0 grade-point average. She claimed first-team CoSIDA All-District VII honors to advance to the national ballot and become Nebraska's first female swimming and diving CoSIDA Academic All-American.

NEBRASKA'S GOLDEN PENNY

PENNY HEYNS
Amanzimtoti, South Africa
Olympic Gold & Bronze Medalist
World Record Holder

It's not every day you run across a golden penny.

But for South Africans and Nebraskans alike, there was one shining bright at the 1996 Olympic Games in Atlanta.

Penny Heyns, a former University of Nebraska standout, earned two gold medals and became the first female in Olympic history to sweep the breaststroke events.

Heyns' whirlwind year of success began on the collegiate level. In Husker suit and cap at the 1996 Big Eight Championships in mid-February, Heyns set a then-NCAA and U.S. Open record in the 200-yard breaststroke (2:08.90), as well as an NU record in the 100-yard event (1:00.18) to help Nebraska win its third consecutive conference crown.

After setting the records, Heyns was forced to travel home for the South African Olympic Trials, which were inconveniently scheduled between the two most important collegiate meets, the conference and national championships.

Nevertheless, it proved to be a trip Heyns would never forget.

During the preliminary heat of the 100-meter breaststroke at the trials, Heyns set a world record with a time of 1:07.46.

The time broke the record held by Australia's Samantha Riley, who had set a mark of 1:07.69 in September, 1994.

Just days after her return from South Africa, Heyns became the first Husker to win a national championship at the NCAA Championships in Ann Arbor, Mich.

Heyns dominated the 100-yard breaststroke with a pool-record 1:00.27 and also earned a silver medal in the 200-yard breaststroke with a 2:09.71 performance.

Heyns then entered the Olympics as the frontrunner in the 100-meter breaststroke event. She proved she had earned that title in the preliminaries, as she blew away the competition and shattered her own world record in a clocking of 1:07.02 in the process.

In the finals, Heyns got off to a quick start, but didn't dominate as she had in the prelims. America's Amanda Beard began her trademark kick at the 50-meter mark and almost caught Heyns at the wall. Heyns held on to finish in 1:07.72 and edged Beard (1:08.09), to claim gold for the first time.

Two days later, Heyns proved she wasn't finished.

After setting an Olympic record of 2:26.63 in the preliminaries of the 200-meter breaststroke, Heyns was timed at 2:25.41 in the finals and again beat out Beard (2:25.75) for the gold. Beard entered the Olympics ranked No. 1 in the 200, but couldn't catch up with the quick pace Heyns set from the start.

"That was one of the hardest races I ever swam," Heyns said following the race. "I'm just glad I had the guts to hang in there."

At a press conference in Lincoln, Neb., the week following her gold medal performances, Heyns admitted she was surprised about the win in the 200.

"In some ways, I sit back, and I really can't believe it," Heyns said. "The 200 (win) was totally unexpected. I don't think it has sunk in yet."

An extremely successful career at Nebraska fine-tuned Heyns for Olympic success. A 15-time All-American and 14-time conference champion for the Huskers, Heyns left Nebraska as the most decorated swimmer in the program's history. Heyns' accomplishments at Nebraska and on the international level will always be recognized.

Heyns has continually showed her appreciation for the University of Nebraska and its athletic department.

Following her double gold medal performance, Heyns didn't waste any time in thanking the Nebraska Swimming and Diving Program and its support staff for the role they played in her Olympic success.

"There is no way I would even be swimming today if I didn't come to Nebraska," Heyns said. "Nebraska has done so much for me that I could never express it. It's not just swimming, it's a family to me -- the whole coaching staff and all my friends."

For the next four years Heyns continued to define excellence in the sport of swimming on a world-class level by producing one of the greatest performances in the history of the sport.

At the 1999 Pan Pacific Championships, Heyns established three world records. Winning gold in both the 100- and 200-meter breaststrokes, Heyns touched the wall in 1:06.52 and 2:23.64, respectively, both world bests. In addition, she swam an exhibition 50-meter breaststroke, posting another world record with a time of 30.83.

Heyns took home her third medal at the 2000 Sydney Olympics by earning a bronze medal in the 100-meter breaststroke in a time of 1:07.55.
